Firmer Stand As To Danzig Is Indicated

Prime Minister To Reply Monday On Attitude

LONDON, July 7—(P)—Parliamentary circles believed today Prime Minister Chamberlain on Monday would declare that any German-supported change in the status of Danzig, except by a Polish-backed agreement, would be considered an "act of aggression" by Germany.

The prime minister had been expected to make a statement in the house of commons today but postponed it because of technicalities in parliamentary procedure.

Some indication of the nature of the proposed declaration was seen in a question filed in the house of commons by Harold MacMillan, a member of the conservative party, to be answered Monday.

The question, which informed sources said was framed at Chamberlain's request, asks whether "the government will issue a declaration than any change in the present status of Danzig, other than by agreement to which the Polish government is a party, whether brought about externally by military action on the part of Germany or internally by a movement initiated or supported by the German government, will be regarded as an act of aggression on the part of Germany and therefore covered by the terms of our pledge to Poland."

It was understood the prime minister would give an affirmative reply.

The undertaking as announced last March 31 by Chamberlain was: "In the event of any action which clearly threatened Polish independence and which the Polish government accordingly considered it vital to resist with their national forces, his majesty's government (and France) would feel themselves bound at once to lend the Polish government all the support in their power."

Received by King

Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin who came to London earlier this week and reported on the German attitude to Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax, was received by King George VI this morning.

The British government sent fresh instructions to Sir William Seeds, ambassador to Moscow, late last night in an effort to smooth out difficulties which were raised in the latest talks on the proposed British-French-Soviet Russian mutual assistance pact.

There was no indication as to the nature of the proposals.

Government circles said the conversations would be resumed in Moscow shortly.

The belief was expressed in some unofficial political quarters today that the Nazis might shift their immediate attention from Danzig to the southeast Europe during an apparent lull in tension between Germany and Poland.

Several observers thought Great Britain's declarations of support for Poland appeared to have averted a conflict over Danzig—at any rate for the time being—but might have brought Balkan irredentism to the fore.

"Watch the Balkans," the Daily Mail warned, and demanded a "plain statement" of British policy in the event of Hungarian or Bulgarian aggression, backed by Germany, against Rumania.

Names Of Two Are Kept Secret

ST. LOUIS, July 7—(P)—The appearance of two "mysterious" witnesses focused attention again on the month-old grand jury investigation of the reputed $62,500 "payoff" to former State Insurance Superintendent R. Emmet O'Malley for approval of the 1936 insurance rate compromise.

The men, whose names Circuit Attorney Franklin Miller said he had promised to keep secret, were with the grand jury during the entire session yesterday.

They refused to talk as they left the jury room. Newspapermen and other observers were unable to identify them.

The inquiry entered its second month today with no sign of when it would be concluded.

Three Local Youths Held For Robbery

Admit Series Of Minor Thefts; May Belong To 'Gang'

Three Sedalia boys were arrested Thursday night by the police in connection with a series of robberies during the last six months in local stores and also for other minor thefts.

The three, who are being held by officers, are: Philip Baldwin, 15, of 2020 East Sixth street; Alfred Paxton, 15, of 2117 East Broadway; and Billy Paxton, 12, of 25th street and Massachusetts avenue. The two Paxton boys are cousins.

They were not at all reticent last night about their "career." They readily gave the names of various Sedalia stores they had robbed and seemed to like to talk about it.

Occasionally, while they were being held in the police station, they would get into arguments with each other and one would accuse another of different "jobs" not previously mentioned. The accused one would promptly name chiefly to South American governments.

Senator Austin of Vermont, acting Republican leader, said if the compromise was effected, Republican opposition to the lending proposals would be weakened. Republicans had planned to concentrate their attack on the foreign loan section.

Help Clear Air

Several other senators agreed removal of this issue would help clear the air, already filled with criticism of administration foreign policy in connection with pending neutrality legislation.

Borah told the senate yesterday that it should not be swayed by either the "democracies" or the "dictatorships" of Europe in considering the administration's proposal to repeal the arms embargo of the neutrality law.

He argued the traditional American policy was one of neutrality and added "it should be maintained for the interests of no foreign nation."

The veteran member of the foreign relations committee criticized French newspaper articles which contended house retention last week of an arms embargo might bring war nearer to Europe. He told the senate also to disregard the reaction in Germany and Italy, asserting those countries hold "bitter opposition to every principle upon which this republic rests."

What is the difference between the dictators and the democracies of Europe in questions touching asked.

"When the hour came for the dictators and the democracies to join in an international movement of stupendous moment, that is, to destroy, to literally murder the one real democracy (Czechoslovakia) in Europe, what was the distinction in the principles applied by the dictators and the democracies?"

The senate foreign relations committee will begin consideration of the legislation tomorrow. Democratic Leader Barkley said it was the administration's intention to keep congress in session until there was a senate vote.

Four Men Rob Goetz Brewery

KANSAS CITY, July 7—(P)—Money for operation of the police department under the state's control is available, Marcy K. Brown, Jr., an assistant city counselor, said today.

An appropriation ordinance passed by the city council the first of the year provides $1,250,000 for the department during the fiscal year which started May 1.

Would Drop Lending Clause To Foreigners

Thurman Arnold Testifies Before Inquiry Group

WASHINGTON, July 7—(P)—Administration leaders were reported authoritatively today to have agreed to eliminate a provision for $500,000,000 in foreign loans from the president's lending program.

As a result, some critics were said to have given assurances they would not oppose an increase of $100,000,000 in the export-import bank's funds.

They were known to have conditioned their acceptance of a provision that loans should be confined to financing export transactions.

The move to compromise the foreign loan provision was credited to Jesse Jones, administrator of the new federal loan agency, active with Secretary Morgenthau in whipping the legislation into shape.

Senator Borah (R-Idaho) was understood to have told Jones he would not oppose the export-import bank increase if the money was made available only to American exporters and no funds were to be loaned to foreign governments.

The three, who are being held by officers, are: Philip Baldwin, 15, of 2020 East Sixth street; Alfred Paxton, 15, of 2117 East Broadway; and Billy Paxton, 12, of 25th street and Massachusetts avenue. The two Paxton boys are cousins.

Replevin Suit In Circuit Court Dismissed

A replevin suit filed in the circuit court some weeks ago by L. L. Dorrance and L. L. Dorrance, Jr., doing business under the firm name of Dorrance & Son, of Clinton, against Roy L. Anderson and Beatrice Anderson, was dismissed in the circuit court today at the request of the plaintiff.

FRENCH Broadcasts To Promote Peace

PARIS, July 7—(P)—France has entered a world propaganda "war" by sending out daily broadcasts in six languages from 17 stations.

Broadcasts in German, Italian, Spanish, English, Arabic and Serb-Croat tongues present the viewpoint that France is "against war and desires a true peace."

The addition of the Serb-Croat broadcasts was seen as an effort to put across the French vision of world events to Yugoslavia.

Day's Respite On Police Bill Four Mentioned As Possible Board Members

KANSAS CITY, July 7—(P)—Four men mentioned as possible members of Kansas City's new police board when the department swings under state control conferred today. Each indicated, the Star said, he would accept the assignment if appointed.

The four, Edgar Shook, Russell F. Greiner, George Fiske, and M. B. Schweiger, met in Fiske's office.

With the scratch of a pen at Jefferson City probably tomorrow Kansas City political observers believed Gov. Lloyd C. Stark would end one more round of his battle with the Pendergast political machine—but they wondered if he might open another.

Reports were that Shook, once severely criticized by Boss Tom Pendergast, was ready to accept appointment as head of the five man board.

Greiner, Fiske and Schweiger made plans at the conference to confer with the governor at Jefferson City tomorrow. Shook was unable to postpone important law business at Wichita and will be unable to make the trip to the capitol.

Shook, Greiner and Schweiger, all Democrats, have been aligned against the Pendergast political machine. Fiske is a Republican.

Delay For A Day

KANSAS CITY, July 7—(P)—Kansas City's home-ruled police received a day's respite from inevitable state control today.

Gov. Lloyd C. Stark—closed in day and night conferences this week considering personnel for the police board he will place in Kansas City—announced he would be unable to sign the state control police bill.

The governor will leave for the San Francisco world fair Sunday. Most observers believe he will sign the police bill and announce his commissioners before then.

Asked if the problem of getting the "right men" for the board was holding up the signing of the bill Stark said recently:

"That might be a good guess."

He declined to amplify.

The names of men prominent in Kansas City—and prominent in their opposition to the forces of imprisoned T. J. Pendergast—were gossiped about the capitol as possible members of the board Stark is expected to "draft."

No. 1 in the speculation was Edgar Shook, the lawyer Stark placed on the Kansas City election board following his original split with the Pendergast organization. Shook recently was confirmed by the senate. He is a Democrat.

The senate foreign relations committee will begin consideration of the legislation tomorrow. Democratic Leader Barkley said it was the administration's intention to keep congress in session until there was a senate vote.

New Serum Fails To Save Doctor

KANSAS CITY, July 7—(P)—Dr. Charles Salsbury died today of equine encephalitis—disease for which he had sought a cure.

A new serum developed in an effort to save Dr. Salsbury failed.

Yesterday he had improved sufficiently to speak to associates but he suffered a relapse in the night. Serums made by both Dr. Salsbury and a friendly competitor, Dr. E. A. Cahill of Indianapolis, were administered unsuccessfully. Made from the blood of horses, to which the disease chiefly is confined, the serums showed him allergic to that animal.

So Salsbury's own laboratory rushed a new serum from the blood of 100 guinea pigs. The biologist roused from his coma and his temperature dropped from 105 to 100 degrees. He ate.

But as technicians worked without sleep to make more serum from 200 additional guinea pigs their chief relapsed and died.

Severe Battle Rages For Its Fourth Day

Japanese Push Mongol Flanks At River Back

By Russell Brines

WITH JAPANESE TROOPS AT THE MONGOLIAN FRONTIER.

JULY 7—(P)—Severe fighting apparently had halted Japanese Manchukuo troops today in a drive against the center of the Soviet-Mongol line, but the Japanese pushed both Mongol flanks back across the Khalka river.

A heavy battle was in its fourth day and the undeclared border warfare had potentials of becoming worse. The Nonomontan region (southeast of Lake Bor near the Khalka river) in the center has become a no-man's land, where troops face each other 300 yards apart.

(Soviet dispatches yesterday told of repulsing Japanese in a smashing victory in the central region along the Khalka, which runs along the Mongolian-Manchukuo border for a short distance southeast of Lake Bor. Sporadic fighting has been in progress since May 11.)

People used to have a funny idea that there was a limit to the things you could do by law. Of course we know better now.

You can do anything by law. Why, not long ago we had a law telling people what they couldn't drink.

There is no longer any limit. Illinois is pioneering. It is on the point of passing a law forbidding picture houses to show double features.

This of course opens the way for a lot of new laws which nobody had dared to think about before. Let your imagination go a little:

How about a law that there must be less than three, not more than five shrimps in a shrimp cocktail? This is practically a tradition, anyway, like the third term.

How about a law against any one woman spending more than six hours in a beauty parlor in any one day?

How about a law providing that a vegetable plate shall always consist of equal dabs of spinach, buttered beets, carrots, and peas?

How about a law providing that all restaurants serving chop suey must publish on the menu its exact contents?

How about a law prohibiting double-header baseball games?

How about a law prohibiting people from showing more than once those movies they made on the vacation to Geezick Falls?

How about a law prohibiting doubling at bridge? Or in brass?

In short, how about a law?

Well, how about it? You might think, in your innocence, that the question of how many pictures a movie was going to show would be a business question, purely between the people who make and sell the movies, the people who show them, and the people who go to see them.

That would be the old-fashioned view. So purely private a matter as this, a matter so little tinged with the public interest, would scarcely have been considered a matter behind which to throw iron regulation and the majesty of law.

But Illinois is on the point of declaring otherwise. Do the kids love to sit all afternoon watching an interminable show? No matter—the law knows best. Do the elders want to drift in, catch a quick show, and beat it? No matter, the law knows best.

Any such law as that now proposed by Illinois would certainly seem destined straight for a long career in the courts, which will then be faced with the difficult task of determining precisely how much movie the citizen is entitled to see for his quarter.

On the average, February is the least rainy month of the year in London.

Marshall Wins From Sedalia Thursday 4-2

Merchants Play K C Lumber Co. In First State Tourney Game

The Marshall Merchants took advantage of the Sedalia Merchants Thursday night when they bunched two lone hits, coupled with two errors, a walk, to run four runs across the plate to win the game 4 to 2. This puts the teams on an even keel with each having won and lost a game, the first meeting the Sedilians won 5 to 4.

In the sixth the inning was started off with Lynch getting a clean hit into center field, while Patterson followed and sent a Texas leaguer into center field and on the bounce Carver was unable to handle it. Lear took a walk filling the bases, then on an error by Barnes who backed into the right field to take a high fly of Sprigg two runs crossed the plate, on a play Barnes to Livingood to throw Miles out Lear and Sprigg advanced. Barnes sent a hot one to Walker who threw wild and two more scores crossed the plate.

Bradford of the visiting club was able to scatter the seven hits given up to the Sedalia Merchants, resulting in keeping the local club from doing any good to overtake the two run lead.

Sedalia scored twice, one in the first when Barnes took a walk, advanced when Slayton was safe on an error, and then scored when Taylor on an attempt to sacrifice was safe on an error. The second score came in the third inning when Slayton doubled and Zey brought him home on a single.

Hoffman gave a good demonstration of pitching whiffing the sphere across the plate for fourteen strikeouts, gave up two hits, allowed six walks, while Bradford sailed the pill across the plate for eight strikeouts and gave up seven hits, allowed two walks.

With the exception of Walker and Hoffman each of the Sedilians gathered in one hit, while Lynch and Patterson were the only "safe hitters" for Marshall.

The score: Marshall 000 004 000—4 2 3 Sedalia 101 000 000—2 7 6 Errors—Sedalia, Barnes, Slayton, Taylor, Carver, Overfelt (2); Marshall, Patterson, Lear and Caldwell. Runs scored by Barnes and Slayton for Sedalia; Lynch, Patterson, Lear and Sprigg for Marshall. Overfelt for Simon in second to catch; Schrick for Carver and Lobaugh for Hoffman in the ninth. Rugen, umpire.

Sunday afternoon the Merchants open the Missouri State Semi-pro baseball tournament, meeting the Cash Lumber Co. of Kansas City in the second game of the afternoon while the first game will be between the Rubenstein Clothiers and the Summer school team of the Central Missouri State Teachers college of Warrensburg.

Manager Siegel has not fully decided who would start the game but said he would chose between Al Schrick, Blaine and Sullivan, with Hoffman ready for relief duty.

Clothiers Take Double Header At Prairie Home

The Rosenthal Clothiers playing a doubleheader at Prairie Home defeated both the Prairie Home teams, the first by a score of 3 to 2 and the second by 16 to 4.

In the first game of five innings the Clothiers obtained six hits, bunting three hits in the fifth inning to get the necessary three scores, while in this same the hits of Prairie Home were only two which were good for as many runs.

The second game the Clothiers would obtain a "basketfull" of walks and a hit would score a "flock" of runs. The sixteen runs were obtained off of six hits, while Prairie Home was given up three errors. Prairie Home obtained four runs off of five hits, with only one error for the Sedilians.

Cole Camp will be visited by the Clothiers tonight to play the Merchants team of that place.

A VOTE FOR THE ELECTRIC FRANCHISE IS A VOTE FOR GOOD COMMUNITY BUSINESS!

The City Light & Traction Company is asking Sedalia voters to support the Franchise Ordinance passed by the Mayor and City Council on June 19, and which is now being advertised to be voted on at a special election to be held for the purpose on TUESDAY, JULY 11, 1939.

The Company is asking for the public's favorable consideration of this matter so that it may be able to take advantage of the present easy financial markets to refinance its indebtedness at a much lower rate of interest and otherwise lay plans, looking to the future, for improving and lowering cost of service over the next twenty years, as has been consistently done during the past twenty-seven years, under the present ownership.

A franchise is simply a permit to do business. Some kind of permit, granted under the laws of the state, has to be secured for practically every business—merchants, manufacturers, barber shops, hotels, banks, peddlers, etc. Some of these permits are granted in one way under Missouri laws, and some, in another way. The particular kind of permit, called a Franchise, for public utilities in cities the size of Sedalia, must be granted by the Mayor and City Council, and for further public protection, must be approved by a majority of the people voting at an election held for the purpose. Without such permit the Company would continue to do business, perhaps, but refinancing of present indebtedness or securing new money for further improvements would not be possible.

The matter of rates for service is not involved because the Public, under the Missouri Public Service Commission law, can always appeal to that body in the matter of rates, service or other matters pertaining to public utilities, if it fails to be able to negotiate with the Company direct. The Public may appeal to the Commission at any time through the City Administration, or, if for some reason the City Administration would fail to act, can appeal directly to the Commission through petition of twenty-five electricity users. Should the Commission, in answer to such petition, make an investigation of the Company's books and property, that expense would be charged to the Company and not to the petitioners. Should the Public Service Commission at any time in the future decide rates are too high, it can reduce them, and the granting of a franchise will not have any effect on that power one way or the other. Nothing can be written into a franchise ordinance which would deprive the public of this protection under the laws of Missouri.

Municipal ownership or the sale of the property to others is not involved in this election. The granting of a franchise does not prevent the City from going into the light and power business or from giving a similar franchise to other Companies, if conditions should warrant it. That is also the law of Missouri.

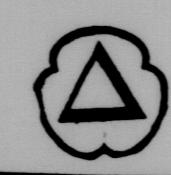

In advertising and conducting this franchise election there is no expense to the City. All such expense falls on the Company and there will be no increase in tax levy, or other cost to the City, in this connection.

The question has been asked: "Why give away a valuable franchise?" The Mayor and City Council, nearly fifty years ago, gave the franchise to a predecessor Company of the present City Light & Traction Company. Out of that gift has grown a Sedalia public utility business in which (a) in excess of $2,250,000 has been invested, (b) which has provided all the facilities for giving good service, (c) which supports an annual payroll of $125,000 (80 families of approximately 320 persons) and (d) which pays into the public treasuries taxes in the amount of $40,000 direct and $12,000 indirect, annually.

We feel that the past record of the Company, extending back to 1912, should inspire public confidence—looking to the future, that the same policy may be continued. The Company is only asking for the opportunity, afforded by this franchise election, to continue to pursue and improve that policy, with every confidence that Sedalia people will respond in large numbers to that assurance.

Roads Group Favors Gas Tax Increase

Would Hike State Levy One Cent By New Amendment

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 7.—(AP)—Strong sentiment for an increase of 1-cent a gallon in the state gasoline tax, with distribution of the increased revenue to the cities and counties and abolition of present city gasoline taxes, was expressed at a state highway conference here Thursday.

William Hirth, president of the Missouri Farmers Association, who called the conference, appointed a seven-man committee to confer with Gov. Lloyd C. Stark and members of the state highway commission to present the views developed at the all-day conference.

Present were representatives of the Missouri County Judges Association, the Automobile Club of Missouri, the Missouri Municipal Association and the Missouri Petroleum Industries Committee.

Abolish City Taxes

The gasoline tax increase would be voted upon in a constitutional amendment at the next general election. The city gasoline taxes would be abolished by law.

Under the tentative plan, the highway commission would continue to build and maintain primary roads and the counties would take over construction of farm-to-market roads.

The county judges' representatives said the counties could build the supplementary roads much cheaper than the state and a greater mileage would be possible under the proposed plan.

E. S. Bond of Jefferson City, presiding judge of the Cole County court and president of the Missouri County Judges Association, said defeat of road amendment No. 6 last November was due in a large measure to dissatisfaction in rural areas with the proposed allotment of funds for local county roads.

Conference Committee

Others named on the conference committee, in addition to Judge Bond, are J. A. Edwards, Centralia, presiding judge of the Audrain County Court; Roy F. Britton, St. Louis, president of the Automobile Club of Missouri; Oak Hunter, Moberly, vice president of the Automobile Club; George A. Spencer, Columbia City attorney, representing the Municipal League; U. G. Llewellyn, Jefferson City, of the Petroleum Industries Committee, and F. V. Heinkel, Robertsville, vice president of the Missouri Farmers Association.

Grant Slayer A New Trial

JEFFERSON CITY, July 7.—(AP)—Herman Ford, former city marshal at Risco, Mo., who was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment for killing a man he was trying to arrest, won a new trial from the state supreme court today.

The court reversed Ford's second-degree murder conviction and remanded the case to the circuit court of Pemiscot. Counsel tried on a change of venue from New Madrid county.

The opinion held the trial court erred in limiting Ford's defense to "ordinary self defense."

"The protection which an officer is entitled to receive is a different thing from self defense," wrote Judge George R. Ellison. "His duty is to overcome all resistance and bring the party to be arrested under physical restraint, and the means he may use must be co-extension with the duty."

"How can it be thought the majesty of the law is served by subjecting peace officers to invited personal violence in apprehension of misdemeanants and making the arrest contingent on which is the 'better man'?"

Ford testified that Braxton Gray tried to seize his pistol when the officer sought to arrest him on a misdemeanor charge August 29, 1936, and that he was forced to shoot Gray, who died four months later.

Decide Services By Laundries

JEFFERSON CITY, July 7.—(AP)—The state supreme court took up the price of laundry today—and decided there's nothing to be done about it.

The court sustained a Jackson County circuit court's action in quashing a restraint of trade indictment against 26 Kansas City laundrymen. It decided laundries sell a service, not a commodity, and you can't operate a service in restraint of trade.

"If the people engaged in laundry and similar business enterprises enter into pools to fix prices and stifle competition," wrote Commissioner Henry J. Westhus in his opinion, "the remedy lies with the legislature."

"Until then, if the prices charged by the commercial laundries are too high we will just have to do our own washings."

All the judges concurred.

ginia, of the greatly loved Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson.

"I join with the entire country in mourning him as one whose many years of faithful service to the nation have endeared him to all. His wise council and his philosophic understanding of human problems will live after him in the hearts and minds of those of us who have had the privilege of being his associates."

"He brought to the public service not only ability and integrity but a loyalty to principle and to duty from which no consideration could move him. By his example he has provided an inspiration for all public servants."

"I personally mourn the passing of a steadfast and intimate friend for more than a quarter of a century."

Swanson went from the chairmanship of the senate naval committee to the cabinet.

The Virginian was reported to have been offered the post by Mr. Roosevelt, after his senate colleague, Carter Glass, declined another cabinet post, the treasury secretaryship.

Behind the veteran official was 44 years of public service, which began with minor offices in Virginia, several terms in the house then a term as governor of Virginia, to be followed by the beginning of his senate service in 1910. He served in the senate until named to the cabinet.

Included in his public activities was membership in the American delegation to the Geneva disarmament conferences in 1932-33.

Swanson was born at Swansontown, Va., March 31, 1862, the son of a tobacco planter. He is survived by his widow and a stepson.

The widow, Mrs. Lulu H. Swanson, was at the deathbed. The stepson is Douglas Dean Hall and other immediate survivors are a brother, Henry C. Swanson, of Danville, Va.; and two sisters, Misses Sallie H. and Anna B. Swanson, of Swansontown.

Forty Years Of Public Life

Forty years of public life, thirty-six of them as a member of congress in both the house and senate, was the background of Claude A. Swanson of Virginia when President Franklin D. Roosevelt in March, 1933, selected him as secretary of the navy.

Included in Swanson's experience were many years of service on the naval and foreign affairs committees of the senate. He was chairman of the naval committee in the late stages of the world war. In 1916, a year before the United States entered the conflict, he sponsored a $500,000,000 three-year building program which provided for sixteen capital ships.

His activities at that time brought him into frequent contact with the future President Roosevelt, who was then assistant secretary of the navy. The two were considered in accord on ideas which Swanson described as "an American empire of floating fortresses second to none." One of his early pronouncements as secretary of the navy was in favor of building up the American fleet to treaty limits, thus maintaining the 5-5-3 ratio as among the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

At Geneva Conference

He took these ideas with him when President Hoover sent him to Geneva as one of the American delegates to the general disarmament conference of 1932-3. There he opposed German and Italian plans, backed by Russian, Rumanian and Dutch members of the conference, for abolition of battleships. He advocated instead of the abandonment of the submarine as a naval weapon, declaring that underwater boats were "the assassins of the seas."

Swanson was a firm believer in international cooperation. After the world war he was one of the chief supporters of President Wilson's attempt to get the United States into the League of Nations. He also advocated American adherence to the world court.

He was born at Swansontown, Va., a town named for his family. His father was a tobacco planter, but the son had to work for his education. At 16 he was a school teacher for one year, then attended Virginia Polytechnic Institute for one semester.

Then he had to go to work again and he became a clerk in a grocery at Danville. Finally with the help of a loan from business men of that city, he graduated from Randolph-Macon college and then went through the law school of the University of Virginia.

He practiced law for a few years at Chatham, Va., and in 1893, began his long service in Washington. The only interruption was a four-year term as governor of his state ending in February, 1910. The following August he was named to fill out an unexpired term in the federal senate and he was in his fifth term when he resigned to enter the Roosevelt cabinet.

Swanson was popular in Washington. A ready speaker, with a large store of Negro anecdotes which he could fit into any occasion, he was in demand at banquets and was always the center of any story swapping group that gathered in the cloak rooms of congress. He liked to tell there of his fishing experiences and he was considered especially skilled in describing "the one that got away."

He owned a five story residence in the capital where he lived with his wife and stepson, Douglas Hall. The household was manned by five Negro servants and was noted as a center of southern hospitality.

Girl Taken On An Air Jaunt Is In Custody

Search Continues For Her Aviator Companion

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., July 7.—(AP)—Sheriff Walter Beck at Charlestown said today he had in custody a girl who gave her name as Goldie Gehrken, for whom a search continues for her aviator companion.

The man lived near Mrs. Polillo. The sheriff described her as a prostitute.

The sheriff quoted the bricklayer that Mrs. Polillo came to his room about 8 o'clock that night, attempted to borrow some money and several hours later struck him with a butcher knife because he refused to loan her $3.

"I struck her with my fist. It was about 2 a.m. She was all dressed up," the man held without charge, was quoted. O'Donnell said a lie detector would be used on the man tomorrow.

The bricklayer also boasted he knew both Mrs. Polillo and Mrs. Rose Wallace, 40, Negro, two of the 12 headless dead found here since September, 1935.

Previously the man asserted only that he had some drinks with Mrs. Polillo the night before her body was found.

Detective Peter Merylo, Cleveland police investigator, cast doubt on the assertion. Mrs. Polillo was dead two or three days before the body was found. Merylo said analysis had shown, and therefore could not have been with the suspect that night. Cleveland police, who have done almost all the investigation in the baffling mystery of the headless dead, held the same man two hours last fall.

County authorities said, however, "between 50 and 60" persons might be called to confront the man if further queries failed to shake some of his statements.

As officers grilled the bricklayer for the second consecutive day, Chief Deputy Clarence M. Tylicki revealed that the man had refused to eat since his arrest Wednesday night.

In addition to refusing food, he has been unwilling or unable to sleep since being placed in jail," Tylicki said.

According to O'Donnell, the man also was known to have associated with Edward W. Andressy, 28, and an unidentified tattooed sailor—other victims in the four-year-old mystery.

Search In Illinois

SALEM, Ill., July 7.—(AP)—The airplane disappearance of a pretty young blonde and a barnstorming aviator became more of a story book puzzle today as authorities checked reports that the small plane circled over the girl's home late yesterday but failed to land.

The pilot, said Sheriff Beck, "apparently sensed trouble. He landed the plane in another field, discharged his passengers and then took off, heading toward Poplar Bluff."

Bridges said no charges would be filed against Miss Gehrken, but that she would be turned over to the sheriff from Vernon who is en route here, some time late today and returned to the home of her parents.

Gov. Long Spurs Cleanup Move

BATON ROUGE, La., July 7.—(AP)—Spurred by reports of financial irregularities at Louisiana State University, Governor Earl K. Long today pressed a cleanup campaign within the political organization set up by his brother, the late "Kingfish" Huey P. Long.

Meanwhile, Dr. James Monroe Smith, whose financial difficulties precipitated the state's greatest turmoil of a generation, remained comfortably in jail here on a charge he embezzled $100,000 from the university he had headed nine years.

Governor Long, stepping directly into the stormy capital scene for the first time since taking office 12 days ago, yesterday abolished the state publicity bureau established a year ago by his predecessor, Richard W. Leche, and ordered a stop to the "bad practice" of certain Louisiana officials selling materials to the state through companies they organized in accord on ideas which Swanson described as "an American empire of floating fortresses second to none." One of his early pronouncements as secretary of the navy was in favor of building up the American fleet to treaty limits, thus maintaining the 5-5-3 ratio as among the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Creamed Comments On S.S. Lesson

Jeroboam: A Man With A Great Opportunity. I Kings 11:26-40 for Sunday, July 9.

Solomon showed his wisdom in promoting to positions of trust those most capable of leadership as was done in the case of making Jeroboam a superintendent in the work of building the walls of Jerusalem.

V. 26. "And Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, an Ephramite of Zereda, Solomon's servant, even he lifted up his hand against the king." There was a resentment from unpaid laborers of the slighted tribe of Ephram in which their leader Ephram shared. Where there is injustice there is labor trouble.

V. 27. "And this was the cause that he lifted up his hand against the king: Solomon built Millo, and repaired the breaches of the city of David his father." Though there was a dissatisfaction, there was no sit-down strike of the king was carried out. Doing duty under protest may be more effective than down-right stubbornness.

V. 28. "And the man Jeroboam was a mighty man of valor; and Solomon seeing the young man that he was industrious, he made him ruler over all the charge of the house of Joseph." When a man and energy in the doing of even the humblest tasks, promotion is very likely to be his reward.

The opportunity to serve well was the first step to the greater opportunity of being a ruler.

V. 29. "And it came to pass at that time when Jeroboam went out to Jerusalem, that the prophet Ahijah the Shilonite found him in the way: and he had clad himself in a new garment; and they two were alone in the field." An obscure prophet of God appears on the scene to reward one already justly promoted by the king. God works with men who are alone with him. We can make spiritual progress more rapidly when we too seek places and even godly persons, and be alone a while with God.

V. 30. "And Ahijah caught the new garment that was on him, and rent it in twelve pieces." Much Old Testament teaching was given by means of symbols. Note that this was a new garment, not an old one, and the tearing of it had the greater meaning. We must study how best to impress God's truths.

V. 31. "And he said to Jeroboam, take these ten pieces; for thus saith the Lord of Israel: Out of the hand of Solomon, and will give ten tribes to thee." The judgment of Solomon's wrong doing in allowing his heart to be turned away from God by strange wives was visited here upon the people over whom he ruled; however two tribes were reserved of the House of David in the Messianic as promised. God's word such as enunciated to Solomon must not be treated lightly.

V. 32. "And I will take thee, and thou shalt reign according to all that thy soul desireth, and shalt be king over Israel." As king, Jeroboam was to reign without a legislative body or a supreme court; he was to be trusted as one who would obey God and do right in all circumstances which would not be treated lightly.

Has a Bronchoscope Anything To Do With Broncos? More Health Queries!

Here are another five questions on health. Five possible answers are given for each question. If you score 100 (20 points for each correct answer), you are well informed. However, if your mark is less than 60, you should attempt to learn more about health and disease.

1. People should not sleep with their windows open because a) night air is dangerous; b) insects and bugs might fly in; c) drafts are dangerous; d) gases might blow in; e) the windows should be open.

2. A simple goiter can be prevented by a) wearing amber beads; b) taking regularly small doses of iodine; c) eating plenty of seaweed; d) eating cabbage; e) drinking beer.

3. A bronchoscope is a machine a) for taming wild horses; b) for looking inside the lungs; c) for looking at germs; d) for curing a cough; e) for treating pneumonia.

4. People with pains in the right lower quarter of the abdomen a) should take a laxative; b) should put on the hot-water bottle; c) should put on an ice bag; d) should consult a doctor; e) should take aspirin.

5. A woman who has just found out that she is going to have a baby should a) keep it a secret; b) eat twice as much; c) have a complete examination; d) tell her mother; e) buy a layette.

ANSWERS:
1. The windows should be kept open in order to permit a free circulation of air. Now screens keep out insects and drafts may be controlled. Contaminations by noxious gases are prevented. There is no reason why the windows should not be kept open for health.

2. Simple goiter occurs in areas where there is a deficiency of iodine in food and in water. It may be prevented by taking regularly small doses of iodine and by the use of iodized salt.

3. A bronchoscope has nothing to do with broncos but is used to look inside the bronchial tubes which are the tubes passing from the windpipe into the finer portions of the lung. It is also possible to remove substances which have been inhaled by the use of the bronchoscope.

4. A pain in the right lower quarter of the abdomen might be appendicitis. Many deaths result from taking cathartics or laxatives under such conditions. An ice bag helps to control the pain. A hot-water bottle increases the congestion. It is best to call a doctor to find out what is wrong.

5. First, ask the doctor if it is really so and have an examination to determine whether everything is satisfactory. Second, visit the doctor regularly to prevent complications. Third, postpone a general distribution of the news as well as the collection of a layette for several months. Fourth, leave guidance as to conduct to the doctor who is selected to take charge of the case.

• Stamp News

ISSUANCE of a special 3-cent stamp honoring the U. S. Merchant Marine, is under consideration by postal authorities. The stamp would mark the launching, on Aug. 31, of the S. S. America, largest ocean liner ever constructed in United States.

Numerous requests have been made to the Postoffice Department for the special issue by persons who feel that the return of America to an important position among the leading maritime nations should be recognized.

Two designs for the stamp have been suggested. One would depict the "Savannah," first American steamship to cross the Atlantic; the other would show the "America."

A limited number of round-the-world flight covers, carried on the first Clipper flight over the southern route, made the globe-circling flight in 23 days. The covers were dispatched from Marseille to Hongkong, via Imperial Airways, and across the Pacific by Clipper.

The cigar industry is honored on three values of the new Cuban series to be released July 15. The 1-centavo stamp shows a native smoking a cigar; the 2-centavos, a cigar encircled by a wreath imposed on a globe; and the 5-centavos, tobacco growing and a box of cigars.

Cuba will also issue, on Sept. 4, seven airmails honoring aviators who were killed at Cali, Colombia.

New issues: France, Battle of Verdun commemorative; Greece, Balkan Games, three values for release in fall; Japan, golden pavilion in Kyoto; Panama, cancer campaign issue of four, showing portraits of the Curie.

Brick-Hemmed Lots Turn Into "Backwoods" Camps

By Olive Roberts Barton

City day-camping is something new under the sun. New York City often takes the lead in recreation projects for youth, and now it seems to have something hitherto untried up its versatile sleeve.

The idea is to give the young campers those experiences not to be found in playground diversions. City lots or open fields near to town are often available for the "camping" outfit, where the boys learn to build fires without matches, erect wigwams, send up smoke signals, study the stars, observe rock formations or plants, make stretchers of boughs, and prepare and cook food outdoors.

The day camps, according to Miss Louise Lynn, deputy director of the WPA Recreation Projects, works in co-operation with civic groups and agencies. As little as possible is provided, so that campers will learn how to depend on their own wits and hands. It is, in short, a sort of borrowing from the open-air education of the Scouts along lines so dear to the boy's heart.

And the fact that the young campers are learning to depend on themselves is of enormous character value. Too many children today are accustomed to canned or ready-made living. It is good for them to know that once, and even now in many places, every necessity as well as every comfort, had to be fought for with all the ingenuity at man's command.

Recently I gave a book to a small boy. It was about an Indian tribe. He took it to school. The next I heard about it, his ambitious teacher had planned the whole visitor's day program around it. For weeks the children talked of nothing else. The lure of the American Indian is still as strong as ever.

So one can see how this new idea of day-camps, incorporating the best of outdoor lore, the wisdom of old trappers and the expedients of pioneers will interest children of almost any age over six.

In a smaller way, other communities might follow suit. The smaller the town, the better the chance of finding suitable spaces for a "wilderness trail."

Notice of Submission of Ordinance No. 3357 to Voters for Their Approval or Disapproval at a Special Franchise Election to Be Held in Sedalia, Missouri on July 11, 1939. Notice is hereby given to qualified voters of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, that at a special franchise election to be held in the City of Sedalia on Tuesday, July 11, 1939, Ordinance No. 3357, which has been passed by the Council of the City of Sedalia and approved by the mayor thereof, will be submitted to the qualified voters at said election, to determine whether the qualified voters voting at said election desire to approve or disapprove said ordinance. The body of said ordinance (excepting only Section 12 designating judges and clerks of election) is in words and figures as follows:

"BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, as follows:

"(A) All of the election precincts in the First Ward of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, are hereby combined in one precinct or election district for the purpose of said special election, and JEFFERSON SCHOOL BUILDING, in said First Ward is hereby designated as the polling place for the First Ward.

"(B) All of the election precincts in the Second Ward of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, are hereby combined in one precinct or election district for the purpose of said special election, and FIRE ENGINE HOUSE NO. 2, in said First Ward is hereby designated as the polling place for the Second Ward.

"(C) All of the election precincts in the Third Ward of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, are hereby combined in one precinct or election district for the purpose of said special election, and WASHINGTON SCHOOL BUILDING, in said Third Ward is hereby designated as the polling place for the Third Ward.

"(D) All of the election precincts in the Fourth Ward of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, are hereby combined in one precinct or election district for the purpose of said special election, and BROADWAY SCHOOL BUILDING, in said Fourth Ward is hereby designated as the polling place for the Fourth Ward.

"Provided: that nothing herein shall be deemed to alter the existing precincts and election districts in the City of Sedalia, Missouri for the purpose of any other or different election than the aforesaid special franchise election to be held in said city on the 11th day of July, 1939."

Section 12 designates, names and appoints judges and clerks of said election.

Section 13. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.

"READ THE THIRD TIME AND PASSED this 19th day of June, 1939."

The polls in said election will be kept open from and between the hours of six o'clock A. M. and sunset.

All persons residing in the City of Sedalia and who are legal voters therein are entitled to vote at said election.

Given under my hand and the seal of said City this 20th day of June, 1939.

JAMES M. BAILEY,
(Seal) City Clerk.

For a Cooler, More Comfortable Home —

Air Cool With an Economical
NITEAIR
ATTIC FAN

"Nature's Own Way of Cooling
By Moving Air"

Air movements produced by your NITEAIR ATTIC FAN increases the evaporation of moisture on your entire body and on your clothing. This is nature's way of cooling. When you sit in a parked car under a blistering summer sun, dead, hot air accumulates inside the car, becomes stifling. But the instant you drive away moving air blows the hot air out, makes you comfortably cool. This is exactly the effect produced by your NITEAIR ATTIC FAN.

Cools NATURE'S WAY with Moving Air . . . Reduces Temperature 10-15 Degrees

NITEAIR ATTIC FAN supplies a complete change of fresh cool air in your home from 30 to 60 times an hour . . . night air which is from 15 to 25 degrees cooler than daytime temperatures. This rapid, continuous change of air prevents daytime heat from building up an attic temperature; makes every bedroom a sleeping porch at night.

Sleepless nights rob us of health and energy. It's easy to relax; to enjoy restful sleep in a NITEAIR cooled home.

The Loges family, all former Sedilians, held a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Miller, 1301 East Ninth street, part of last week, and began to disband Monday morning.

Sunday was the outstanding day when seventeen of the relatives attended the Immanuel Evangelical church, Fourth street and Vermont avenue. After the services they returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Miller where a most delicious chicken dinner, was served.

At ten o'clock Monday a breakfast was served to the guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parsons, Kas, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milburn and children, Sedalia, Will Loges and daughter, Miss Gladys, Dresden, Mrs. J. R. Beall, Washington, D. C., Russell Loges, Nampa, Idaho.

Walter Loges brought beautiful bouquets of gladioli and roses from Parsons which were used for decorations in the Miller home.
